Innovation Hub Africa – 11 May

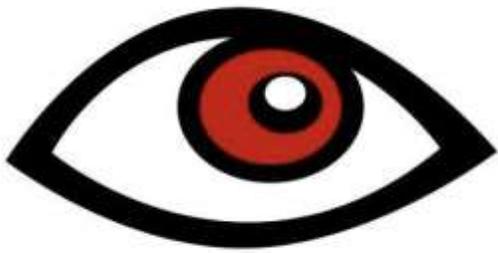

Andy Boettcher from Innovation Hub Africa (iHub) spoke to RCHB about this innovative programme which aims to produce young leaders unlocked with health identities and globally-enabled job skills for the digital economy, who become productive leaders within their families and communities. iHub is currently offering digital marketing training in Philippi Village, Cape Town and Media Mill, Johannesburg.

With 36 weeks of training provided at no cost over 12 months, participants are able to participate in the digital economy without doing a four-year computer science degree, which is not affordable for those from impoverished circumstances. The iHub programme prepares students to learn how to learn and provides them with sufficient interpersonal communication skills to thrive within a business setting. Professional mentors work side by side with them throughout their journey to help ensure success.

After start-up in August 2019, 24 students graduated in November 2020, of which 7 were placed into internships. In November 2021, iHub expects to place 8-10 new graduates in full-time employed positions. Hillsong Africa Foundation is the founder and implementer of this project, partnering with Pearson education company plus digital marketing companies Co-Marketers and Shift ONE.

HOUT BAY

NEIGHBOURHOOD WATCH

On Tuesday, 18th of May, our club held its weekly meeting focused on Hout Bay's Neighbourhood Watch (HBNW). We welcomed Liezl Schulte to our Zoom meeting. Liezl is the HBNW Chair after working over eight years in different roles, engaging with various safety and security partners to drive safety and security topics/projects in our area. About 20 years ago, our community took up the challenge of combating an escalating rate of crime across all categories. Today, HBNW is a community-based volunteer neighbourhood security organization, which enjoys tremendous support of over 3000 signed-up members, as well as of SAPS, the Community Police Forum and the security companies, particularly Fidelity ADT, which is a Platinum HBNW sponsor.

Looking at incident statistics reported to Watchcon over the period 2012-21, available at their website, 2020 has seen the lowest crime rate in our area. This year is tracking only slightly behind that. Overall, crime is low comparing to suburbs around areas such as Constantia and Camps Bay. Liezl emphasized that crime rates continue to be high in IY and Hangberg, and indicated that SAPS, the Community Police Forum and community leaders are dealing with these.

About ten years ago, Watchcon was set up as a 24-hour/7 days emergency call centre in Hout Bay. Since then it has been growing from strength to strength due to the hard work and a huge commitment from everyone involved in HBNW. Watchcon receives calls, and alerts through different channels (HBNW radio network, WhatsApp groups, calls and Buzzer App) and then uses the 600+ CCTV cameras to coordinate and prioritise the adequate response to each event.

However, to be successful in its mission to keep our area safe and secure, Watchcon is just a piece of a larger puzzle that covers the entire safety chain from detection to response. Hout Bay is organized around 27 different areas, each with an Area Leader. Over the last 3-4 years, Community Improvement Districts (CIDs) have been successfully implemented and now cover almost half of Hout Bay. Penzance was the first to put in place a CID, and crime dropped by 95% and property value increased by 83%. Other community areas contribute with money that goes into the general fund and finances actions such as license plate recognition cameras, radio and high sites critical to the communications network. This year, FADT has positioned a dedicated tactical vehicle in Hout Bay, further enhancing Watchcon's response capacity.

Wrapping up her presentation, Liezl indicated how residents can support achieving the HBNW vision of making Hout Bay a safe place to live in, that encourages investment, increases property value, boosts tourism and creates jobs. First, contribute financially to support the integrated supply chain. If every household in our community contributes R225 per month, the ideal monthly cost of about R1,070,000 across the board could be met. However, this goal is still far from being achieved. Second, support CIDs in your area. Finally, support projects with time in areas such as project management, beach patrolling and administrative activities. In total, every year, it handles more than 10,000 calls, slightly less than 1150 incidents. In recent years, about 25% of incidents are medical emergencies and this has required a lot of effort to build a network of first aiders to supplement existing emergency medical services.

On Tuesday 25 May, Karen Temlett and Carina Van Der Merwe of Funda Kunye spoke to us at ABC and via Zoom.

Funda Kunye are a Hout Bay based NPO with the aim to support and equip caregivers about the importance of age appropriate stimulation, nurture and love for the children in their care, to impact the educational standards of a community and to grow God's Kingdom. They offer training courses for caregivers in underprivileged areas who run home-based ECD's taking care of 3 months old babies to 3 year old toddlers. As an 'add on' they have an easy to follow termly, themed programme as well as an Edukit to compliment the programme.

Equipping caregivers in assisting children to reach their God-given potential!

Being a NPO, Karen listed the following wish list should anyone wish to provide assistance:

R450 printing of a termly programme.

R1000 to sponsor a caregiver to attend one of their courses.

R2000 pm for a field worker to locate / maintain relationships with the caregivers and to translate into isiXhosa.

R10 000 to equip an EDC with the 3-12 month Edukit.

R10 000 to equip an EDC with the 12-36 month Edukit

QUIZ NIGHT

Hout Bay Rotarians brave challenging quiz!

Tuesday 8th June was meant to be a relaxed 'social evening' but determined Hout Bay Rotarians showed their mettle in tackling a wide range of non-trivia questions set by Keith & Alison!

A taster quiz was sent round beforehand to get everyone in the right frame of mind....and set the tone for the rest of the quiz! Questions ranged from 'Who were the first television couple to be filmed in bed' {Fred & Wilma Flintstone!} to 'Which country has the most islands surrounding it?' {Sweden}.

'What is POGONOPHOBIA the fear of?' ...seemed to floor most people {The fear of beards!}.

Scores ranged from 3 out of about 50 (mine!) to close to full marks (but there seemed to be hidden bodies out of vision in support...seen frequently filling glasses...so they were disqualified!)

However, the real genius in the Zoom room was a young lady who knew that there were 336 dimples on a golf ball...and she didn't even play golf!

Well done Hout Bay Rotarians for braving the challenge!

SPOTLIGHT ON : Adele Hayden

Born in Johannesburg 1969. Was raised and schooled in Sandton – Redhill Primary School and Sandown high school.

Studied

Business and Marketing Management (IMM – Institute of Marketing Management); Advertising Management (AAA School of Advertising).

Started my career at DMB&B Advertising Agency which was later taken over by Leo Burnett Advertising. Worked on some amazing ad campaigns including Continental Tyres, SAB, Imperial Car Rental, Liberty Life Properties. Then went on to Young & Rubicam (Y&R Hedley Byrne) as Account Manager on the Pick n Pay Corporate advertising account. I fell pregnant in 1996, my husband was transferred to Cape Town and I've been living in Hout Bay ever since.

Launched

AB Promotions in 1997 to launch Video cover advertising which eventually turned into DVD cover advertising. Had media rights to roughly 100 DVD stores in Cape Town, Johannesburg and Pretoria. We also offer various marketing and advertising products and services for small to medium size enterprises. Due to technology, the DVD industry came under severe pressure and our business moved more into marketing services for small to medium businesses. We took over Club790 in 2014 and converted it into a business directory aimed at stimulating local business and raising funds for Rotary.

I have had an association with Rotary through my Father, Roy Graham (Past President), for many years. I have met some wonderful and welcoming people here. I decided to officially join Rotary in June 2018 once my daughters had left school and were less dependent on me.

I love my pets, enjoy oil painting (which I never seem to have enough time for!). Enjoy my mountain and beach walks. Absolutely love travelling and especially love spending time with my family and close friends.

I am married to Karl Hayden – who works in the oil industry and spends a number of months each year overseas. I have two daughters aged 22 (Max) and 24 (Gaby) and 2 step daughters (Tamara & Ashleigh).
